

Why this website?

This website is made as a place to get some facts about the HPV vaccine other than the basic information the vaccine manufacturers and health authorities may give you.

There are many, many doctors, medical researchers and scientists as well as numerous more natural holistic practitioners (such as Homeopaths and Osteopaths) who have very serious concerns about the HPV vaccine (brand names Cervarix or Gardasil) and what it may do to YOUR health either in the short or long term.

Please take the time to read through some of the information given here and elsewhere, find the facts about HPV and the vaccines before you make a decision that could affect your health.

Remember it is your body and your health. YOU have the legal right to say what you put in it - including, if you choose, saying 'no' to any vaccination that is offered to you.

Why the concern?

- The Cervarix Vaccine contains 0.5mg of Aluminium Hydroxide- a known neurotoxin. (http://www.associatedcontent.com/article/887707/aluminum_hydroxide_in_vaccines.html?cat=5)
- There is no data showing it remains effective after more than 5 years (meaning you will need to keep having more vaccines and more of their toxins, and possible side effects) (<http://www.profitableharm.com/pdf/Appendix%20A-1.pdf>)
- There have been many serious side effects from the vaccine- genital and facial warts, convulsions, seizures, epileptic fits, diminished vision, paralysis, severe allergic reactions, it even causing cervical cancer, and over 78 reports of death. (<http://www.medalerts.org/index.html>) –then search for death and HPV /HPV4 to get up to date report. (http://www.judicialwatch.org/files/documents/2009/vaers_001.pdf#3, http://www.judicialwatch.org/files/documents/2009/vaersdeathsALL_20090616.pdf)
- The safety studies were done on young women age 15-26 yet they are now vaccinating much younger girls who have possibly not been through puberty, with no regard or testing as to if this could affect their future fertility.
- Some of the safety trials are still going on- yet girls are still being vaccinated with the future results not known. Does it suppress the 2 high risk strains (16 & 18) yet make the other 127 strains more likely?
- Theoretically the HPV vaccine could even make cervical cancer more common in 20 -30 years time - we just don't know as there has been no long term testing!
- Cervarix has cells derived from 'Trichoplusia ni' the Cabbage Looper Moth! But there have been no studies conducted in regards to effects of insect DNA interaction with human DNA.

Did you know?

- Approximately 50- 75% of sexually active men and women acquire genital HPV infection at some point in their life, yet over 90% of the time your body clears up the infection by itself!
- Most cases of persistent HPV infection that could 'possibly' go on to cause cervical cancer are picked up during smear tests and treated, before cancer develops. Most deaths from cervical cancer are in those not getting regular smear tests. (<http://www.womens-health.co.uk/smear.asp>)
- In a safety vaccine trial in America, women who smoked were found have a 3.42 times greater risk of developing cervical cancer than had women who had little exposure to tobacco smoke. Also, women whose diets were high in vegetables had half the risk of getting cervical cancer.
- Also linked to increased risk of cervical cancer is HPV infection at a young age, immunosuppression, smoking, and co-infection with herpes simplex virus or Chlamydia trachomatis. (<http://www.sparks-of-light.org/HPV-VACCINE-MYSTERIES-word2004.pdf>)

What Next?

- Take a look at the information and links pages on this website, click on the links and read through and watch the information with your parents or guardians. Make sure you are happy with the benefits and the risks - whether you choose to have the vaccination or not.
 - The risks are higher if you are in these categories– already sexually active (and possibly have already acquired HPV), are allergic to any components of the vaccine, had an allergic reaction after getting a previous dose of the vaccine, have a bleeding disorder, weakened immune system (autoimmune disorders), are pregnant, possibly pregnant or planning pregnancy or have a current illness with a fever.
 - Avoid smoking, eat healthily, avoid toxins and also practise safe sex or limit sexual partners, especially whilst still young. (You cannot get HPV if you are not having sexual contact)
 - If you do, or do not, get vaccinated - make sure you start to have regular smear tests when advised. (Currently in the UK from age 25) The vaccine only works with 2 strains of HPV.
 - Pass on this website and information to your friends, family and anyone else you care about.

Who Benefits?

- There is a lot of money involved - privately in the UK the HPV vaccines cost around £125- £160 each, or £355 - £449 for the 3 recommended doses. (Far more than other vaccines)
- Some of the advisors for the World Health Organisation and other bodies that decide who gets vaccinated, are also advisors for Merck and GlaxoSmithKline -the very people who manufacture the vaccines! How can we trust these people to tell us there are safe when they will earn money from continued vaccination? (<http://www.americanchronicle.com/articles/view/108773>)

Remember!

Cervarix and Gardasil are not cancer-vaccines; Cervarix and Gardasil are virus-protectors.

HPV is a sexual disease and 100% preventable -the only preventable cancer in the world. Cervical cancer is not even on the top-10 of worldwide cancers.

If you are not 100% happy with having the vaccine then you have the right to say no right up to the second it is administered. Even if you have previously said you would get the vaccine, or if your parents have given permission for you to have it.

You also don't have to do what your friends are doing.

You can always choose to have the vaccine at a later date if you wish, but you cannot take the vaccine back out of your body once given.

It is your body- YOUR choice.
